

Atomic Study Planned Oct. 12-18

Educational programs on atomic energy will be held in Greenbelt October 12-18 by church, school, and other groups in observance of Atomic Energy Week in Prince Georges County.

The week's activities are designed to stimulate thought and study of the problems connected with the control of atomic energy. The county program was initiated by the League of Women Voters and is being backed by more than 50 organizations throughout the county.

Dr. Mark Woods of Maryland University will speak on the topic "Atomic Energy" Tuesday, October 14, at the high school PTA meeting to be held in the high school auditorium at 8 p. m.

Students and faculty of the high school will meet Wednesday in a special assembly on atomic energy. Included on the program is a panel discussion by members of the senior class on the subject, "International Organizations for Peace," a demonstration of atomic fission by the junior high school science club; and a movie, "One World or None," narrated by Raymond Gram Swing.

The Center School and the North End School are planning atomic energy programs which will include exhibits, radio listening groups, and special assemblies. The Center School will invite parents to a program Friday afternoon in the auditorium.

The Community Church will show the movie "One World or None" Sunday, October 12 at 8 p. m. in the Center School auditorium.

Educational literature from the Prince Georges County Atomic Energy Committee will be distributed in Greenbelt stores during the week through the courtesy of Greenbelt Consumer Services, according to Mrs. Elizabeth Harrington, local chairman of the county committee.

H. S. PTA To Hold New Term Meeting

Mothers and fathers of high school students on Tuesday, October 14, will attend the opening meeting of the high school PTA for the new term in the school's auditorium at 8 p. m.

Included on the program is a talk by Dr. Mark Woods of Maryland University on "Atomic Energy;" introduction of new teachers; songs by a student chorus sponsored by Miss Beckham; and a business meeting.

Membership dues of 50c per parent will be received by Mrs. Rose Sansone, membership chairman.

All mothers and fathers are invited to attend the meeting. Refreshments will be served.

Night Classes For Mom And Pop

Evening classes in adult education will begin Monday, October 20, it was announced by Mrs. Mary Jane Kinzer, supervisor of community and family services. Questionnaires sent home to parents by school children have been collected for week-end study and the mapping of the year's program.

Mrs. Kinzer stated that anyone interested in adult education who has not yet received a questionnaire may get one at her office over the variety store. Complete schedules of location and time of classes will be available next week.

Taxes Go Up

The community of Greenbelt will be paying the county this year approximately $20,000 more in real estate taxes than it did last year, the land valuation has gone up from $1.55 to $1.95 per hundred. The PHA office was busy this week preparing tax return forms. State taxes have not fallen due.

Senator Sothoron To Speak Here

The Greenbelt Citizens Association will hold its first meeting of the new season on Monday, October 20, in the Center School auditorium.

Speaker of the evening, State Senator Harold L. Sothoron, will discuss Greenbelt and its relationship to the county and the state. Mr. Sothoron is the representative of Prince Georges County at Annapolis.

Mrs. Margaret Carmody, president of GCA, said that speakers are being approached for future programs, and that announcements will be published at a later date. Open forum meetings, Mrs. Carmody said, will be held as issues and problems arise for discussion.

English Planner Visits Our Town

Greenbelt was host Wednesday to F. J. Osborn, one of the founders of Welwyn Garden City in England. Mr. Osborn was escorted by Dillon Myer, commissioner of Public Housing Administration, and a party of about twenty including PHA officials and community planners. Community Manager Cormack, Town Manager Gobel, Mayor Canning, Mrs. Betty Harrington, Mrs. Carolyn Miller, and Sherrod East, president of the Mutual Housing Association, took a tour of the town with the visitors and joined them at a luncheon served at the Drop-Inn.

Mr. Osborn will be remembered for his recent message printed in the 10th anniversary booklet. Greenbelt, adding "May its inhabitants never, as we English must temporarily 'tighten their Belt'!"

His message to the group gathered at the youth center was in the same friendly and informal vein. His reaction to Greenbelt was that it was "very original in layout, well kept . . . a very beautiful development." Compared to the English garden cities, he noted a lack of flower-filled gardens which his fellow-countrymen would not be without. The English planned communities are much larger and industry plays an important role in their development.

Mr. Osborn said that in rebuilding his country new garden towns were being built twenty to thirty miles from large cities. Sections of the population and certain light industries move by prearranged plan from the cities to the new towns.

PTA Group Hears Health Program

Twelve delegates from Greenbelt heard Dr. Edward Davens, Chief of the Bureau of Child Hygiene of the Maryland State Department of Public Health address the county council of PTA's on "An Adequate County Public Health Program". Dr. Davens spoke Thursday, October 2, at the Laurel Elementary School. He emphasized the importance of a healthy school environment, school medical services, a physical education program in line with the best health practices, health and safety education for school children, provision in the regular school program for the handicapped child, and a system of cumulative health records for each child.

Delegates from Greenbelt were Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Berkenbilt, Mrs. Lyman Woodman, Mrs. Michael Owen, Wesley Darling, Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Chasanow, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fleisher, Mrs. Wells Harrington, Miss Anna Marie Dretsin, and Mrs. Srema Posner.

The Council's chairman of parent education, Mrs. Joseph Yuill, announced a series of radio broadcasts over WGAY in which Greenbelt high school students will participate.

Let's Put Town On Maryland's Map

Greenbelters who wish to vote in the Maryland primaries and election in 1948 may file their intention to do so on Tuesday, October 28, between 7 and 7:55 p.m. Bridge Bowie, Clerk of the Circuit Court of Prince Georges County, will be at the firehouse at that time, and will accept declarations of intent from unregistered Greenbelt citizens.

It was erroneously stated in the Cooperator last week that those filing such declarations could not vote in the primaries next June. Actually, anyone may vote in the primaries who will be eligible to vote in the Fall election. Voting requirements include declaration of intent to vote at least one year before election date. Registration may take place up to time of voting.

Anyone who voted in the 1946 election is still eligible to vote in 1948, unless he has moved from the precinct in which he was living at that time.

Those who are unable to be at the firehouse when Mr. Bowie is here may file their declaration of intent in Hyattsville at the County Service Building during regular office hours.

Welcome Teachers

Teachers of the Greenbelt schools will be guests of the Woman's Club at a reception on October 15, 8:15 p. m., at the High School Auditorium.

Speaker of the evening is Francis H. Russell, Director, Office of Public Affairs, Department of State. His topic will be "Around the World in Thirteen Days."

Why Not Delete The Busy Signal

By FRIEDA PERLZWEIG
Greenbelters, have you listened to your dial tone? The new soft hum is easier on the ears. This is an advantage resulting from the changes made by the Chesapeake & Telephone Company. Last week all kinds of strange things took place over the lines. One lady's usual morning talk fest was interrupted by the bell continuing to tingle even after she got her number. The three other parties on the called line continued to get rung, too. Result, much confusion and loud curses.

This week, all's peaceful again. The telephone company tells us that a new addition providing more trunks and telephone numbers for the Greenbelt telephone system is nearing completion. The telephone company reported that in order to provide service to the many applicants who have been waiting in Greenbelt, it will be necessary to change approximately 100 existing telephone numbers in the near future. Subscribers whose numbers are to be changed have been contacted in person. They were given post cards to mail to friends who live outside of Greenbelt, advising of their new number. For calls within the town itself, a list of all number changes since March will be mailed to every household in Greenbelt within five days after the numbers are changed.

Since many new families will then be able to obtain telephones, a complete directory for Greenbelt will be published before December 1. This directory will not only contain the number changes, but all other existing services, plus all advance orders taken through October 17.

Cards For Capes

Children of the Greenbelt Community Band, dressed in their uniforms, will be knocking on their neighbors' doors soon, selling Christmas cards. Mrs. Myrtle Brittingham, who is organizing the card sale, said the proceeds will go toward capes for band members this winter.

Charges Against Administration Go On As New Council Starts To Work

By Richard W. Cooper

With the charges, counter charges, and excitement of the town election fast fading into the background, Greenbelt's new town council settled down to the serious business of carrying on the city's management in an orderly way last Monday night.

Expert To Air Racial Tensions

The second in the series of fall forums sponsored by the Community Church on Sunday evenings will be offered next Sunday at 8 p. m. in the center auditorium, on the subject "What the Press and Radio Are Doing To Lessen Racial Tensions."

The public is invited to hear Dr. Franklin Dunham, chief of radio in the U. S. Office of Education and former educational director of the National Broadcasting Company, who will be the speaker of the evening. As special consultant to the Secretary of War, Dr. Dunham assisted in the development of enlisted men's radio programs, and trained personnel for the Armed Forces Radio Service, which has continued up to the present to provide programs for the men in occupation areas.

Sunday school and public school teachers will be guests of honor at this program, and refreshments will be served afterward. A brief program of organ music will precede the speech of the evening. No charge will be made at any forum except a silver offering to cover incidental expenses.

Complaints Flood Police Department

Things are tough all over. The Greenbelt Police Department listened to 126 complaints during the month of September. The breakdown of the list, as indicated in their monthly report, shows that 2 arrests were made for traffic offenses and 19 warnings issued. More than half of the 16 larceny cases reported were solved; there were 2 assault and battery cases and 2 accidents.

Lost and misbehaving children, animals, neighbors, hazards, fires, first aid and ambulance calls accounted for the rest of the complaints.

NCJW Entertained At Membership Tea

The Membership Tea of the Greenbelt Section of the National Council of Jewish Women, held last Thursday night, was opened with a prayer led by Mrs. Eunice Sandhaus.

Mrs. Adelaide Weidberg, chairman of the local section, introduced the following chairmen who spoke on the work of their committees: Mrs. Tillie Wetter, social legislation; Mrs. Ruth Tretter, international relations; Mrs. Ethel Fisher, ways and means; Mrs. Frances Miller, overseas service; Mrs. Beulah Buksin, membership; Mrs. Gladys Chasnoff, librarian; Mrs. Ethel Rosenweig, contemporary Jewish affairs; and Mrs. Fan Schein, community cooperation.

A resolution was passed to send a telegram to President Truman urging that an emergency session of Congress be called to discuss the sending of aid and relief to Europe, and also methods of keeping prices down by means of price control.

All interested members were invited to participate in a newly-formed study group on Palestine, to be led by Mrs. Kay Ehrlich.

Mrs. Frances Miller announced that she is accepting clothes for overseas shipment for children aged 2 to 6, and for girls aged 14 to 18.

Clothes should be brought to 10-B Plateau Place during the next two weeks.

Repercussions of the election were evident in a letter presented by Guy Moore of the Greenbelt Improvement Association, charging that in carrying on the independent audit of the town government's finances, the auditors are taking their instructions from the town manager, one of the persons under investigation. Moore suggested that the audit might be reported in such general form that it will not give the detail necessary to clear up charges now before the council.

Town Manager Gobel, in reply to Moore, denied that he had given directions to the auditors, but said that he had made all town records available to them and offered to give them any further information which they might need. On the motion of Councilman Lastner, the council voted to instruct the auditors to include in their investigation all items raised in Moore's letter, including details of any cancelled salary checks which might have been issued. Lastner explained that the investigating committee should have all facts action.

Petition Presented

Further citizen participation in the town government was evidenced by a petition signed by more than 600 persons requesting that police officers Dodge and Belton, who are now under suspension by the town manager, be restored to active duty pending final action on their replacement. Discussion from the audience indicated concern over lack of adequate police protection and lack of trained leadership for the Fire Department in the absence of two full-time officers from the force.

Councilman Granahan took the position that this petition was out of order, in that the council should hold the town manager responsible for the proper operation of the administrative staff and should not go over his head in interfering in the details of city administration. Called upon to reply to the petition, Manager Gobel asserted that Greenbelt has adequate police and fire protection, and that there is always at least one policeman on duty. The strength of the staff is the same now as it has been for several months, he said, because during the summer months, vacations made it unusual to have more than one officer on duty. He suggested that the present staff will be adequate until further decisions on staffing can be made by the council.

On the motion of councilman Harrington the council voted to ask the chairman of the council committee on public safety to review this situation promptly, and if necessary to call a special meeting of the council to recommend action to be taken.

Department Coverage

Designation of the departments to which individual councilmen will give particular attention was made by Mayor Canning. Councilman Lastner, public works, sanitation and public health; Mrs. Harrington, recreation, education, library and social service; Mayor Canning, public safety; Granahan, public improvements, planning and zoning; and Morrison, general government and finance. Morrison cautioned the councilmen that their authority in these fields as individuals is limited, and that they should avoid interfering in town administration. It was agreed that action on policy matters should be taken by the council as a whole, not by the individual members.

Mayor Canning appointed Mrs. Harrington and himself to replace former Councilman Rogers and Councilman Morrison on the Youth Center board of trustees. Morrison

Can I Carry Your Books?

"No more pencils, no more books—"

We can all remember chanting that little ditty, and hoping that its implications were true—that the grind of study would never return to plague us. It's not until we're quite a long time out of school that the refrain changes to "School days, school days, dear old golden rule days." Even then, we fear that the changed attitude is as much desire for a return to a life without budgets and war threats, with their resultant ulcers, as for greater knowledge.

To the extent that mental development is sought however the adult education program which will start here soon should satisfy the longing for school days that exists in each of us. Shop, art, typing, business English, public speaking and Spanish have already been planned, and others will be scheduled if 15 or more applicants request an addition.

Perhaps if enough people ask for a class in "What to do About Russia and Prices," we'll obtain freedom from ulcers along with our education.

Self Denial

Starving Europeans will no doubt be grateful to learn that Americans have been asked by their president to deny themselves, as he is doing, by limiting their Thursday dinners to baked ham instead of poultry and eggs. The official White House menu published in the Washington Post on Tuesday under the head "Example of Self-Denial" may also have provoked mixed emotions in those of us who have observed four or five meatless and poultryless days a week for many months.

The mademoiselle trying to find enough food for her bombed-out orphan charges may find great comfort in the rapidly mounting government stockpile of eggs expected to result from our eating one less egg per week. The enormous over-production already being bought by the federal government to support egg prices will be greatly increased by this sacrifice.

If President Truman, and other Americans who can afford to buy scarce food items no matter how high the price, would limit themselves to the menus the average wage earner's wife can provide her family, enough vitally needed food could be saved to prevent a starved Europe this winter.

However, if the average wage earner's wife attempted to emulate the president's "self-denial" program, her budget would burst at the seams and American food consumption would substantially increase.

Wexlers Send Best

To the Editor:

We didn't have time to say "Goodbye" to all our friends in Greenbelt before we left.

Greenbelt is a wonderful town,
and we are thankful for the opportunity to have lived in it.

If as a town it fails, then no one is to blame but the average citizen living in it.

We'd like to receive the Co-operator to keep in touch with events and people in a town we learned to appreciate very much.

Tell people in Greenbelt we'd love to hear from them.

—PHIL AND BETTY WEXLER

Don't Get Excited Education Goes On

The Greenbelt schools lost two teachers last week, when a lower enrollment than was expected
made a re-grouping necessary.
Their classes totalled less than the required load of 35 children.

Mrs. Margaret McCanless and Mrs. Delores Bausum were transferred to the Berwyn school.

Child Care Center

To Give Kid Movie

The Greenbelt Child Care Center held a membership meeting Tuesday evening. Plans were made for the benefit movie to be shown at the Greenbelt Theater on Friday, October 31. The public schools will be closed on that day
for the annual state teachers convention.

The feature picture of the program will be "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," and in addition to this children's classic, selected animated cartoons will be shown.
at 1 p.m. and the last at 3 p.m.
Tickets will be made available to Greenbelt school children through the schools, or may be secured at the door of the theater on the day of the benefit. Admission will be thirty cents, including tax. Come and wear your Hallowe'en costume.

OUR NEIGHBORS

A practical solution to the terrors of "Beggars' Night" has been offered by Mrs. Earl Marshall of 6-N Ridge Road. The high cost of food, plus the extreme need for food in starving Europe, prompted Mrs. Marshall to suggest court parties to substitute for the traditional "tricks or treats." The idea is that mothers in each court pool their money and ideas, and give the small fry their cookies and other "treats" in a practical, but still good-time, way, in one of the homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Kaye, residents of Greenbelt for five years, have moved from 2-B Southway to their new home, a hundred-acre farm near Trenton, New Jersey.

Mrs. George Lange returned last Sunday to her home in New Hampshire after visiting Mr. and Mrs.
Donald Chittenden of 45-K Ridge Road.

Mrs. Joseph Macchio of 35-H Ridge Road has been suffering from a very severe attack of asthma with complications.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Lawrence and their four children of Richmond, Va., were the weekend house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Lawrence of 6-H Crescent Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Linson celebrated their tenth wedding anniversary on October 2 by dining at Michel's in Washington and attending a performance of Lady Wind-emere's Fan at the National. Mr.
Linson is our theatre manager.

Friends of Jimmie Brenon will want to write to him now that he is away from home. Jimmie is in Warm Springs, Georgia, where he will stay about five months. He motored down about two weeks ago with his parents and sister, Judy. He will be happy to hear from all his friends here.

Thad Shannon of 56-J Crescent Road left on Monday for Richmond, Va., where he has been transferred. His family will join him there when he has found a home for them.

Mrs. Donald Cooper is still a Greenbelt Co-op customer, even though she is thousands of miles away. Recently, she commissioned a friend to buy sixteen curtain rods
in the Variety Store and send them
on to her home in Germany.

Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Levine, formerly of 38-B Crescent Road,
have moved into their new home
at 6-B Crescent Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Perelzweig, 6-F Hillside Road, celebrated their thirteenth wedding anniversary October 5 in Washington in the company of some friends, down from New York on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Jean Nance, 8-A Hillside Road, are happy to announce that their twins, born in August, are now home from the hospital. The baby girl was brought home about three weeks ago. Her twin, after undergoing a successful operation, was allowed home a week ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dwiggins, 17-H Ridge Road, and family, motored to Smithsburg and Hagerstown where they spent the weekend with Mrs. Dwiggins' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel I. Kline. On Sunday a group of relatives gathered to celebrate Miss Ann Dwiggins' twelfth birthday.

The exact time for each activity will depend upon the majority's wish on opening night. Women's gym is open to any woman of the community over high school age.

son had asked to be relieved of this responsibility.

Councilman Lastner's resolution calling for immediate discussion between the council and the Greenbelt Mutual Housing Association on possible action in the event of the sale of the defense homes section of Greenbelt was approved by the council.

On the recommendation of Manager Gobel three new part-time positions were established in the Recreation Department to fill temporarily the gap left by the resignation of two of the present members of the staff. The temporary positions presumably will be eliminated and the present permanent positions restored about January 1.

Zoning Code

On inquiry by councilman Granahan, Manager Gobel reported that discussions are under way on the proposed zoning code for Greenbelt with the Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission and the Prince Georges County Zoning Committee to see if the area, county, and town zoning plans can be coordinated in such a way that they can mutually support each other. The cooperative working arrangement with these two bodies is proving of material benefit to the Greenbelt committee, he reported, and should speed up the process of developing Greenbelt's zoning plan.

Some complaint from members of the council and the audience brought the suggestion that a larger room for council meetings be obtained. This was enthusiastically approved by spectators hanging on the outside window ledge and standing outside the doorway.

In view of the unprecedented interest in council meetings, the council voted to post the agenda for each regular meeting on the bulletin board in the tobacco store no later than 4:30 p. m. on the day of the meeting.

Gun Club Teaches Junior Rifle Fans

The senior division of the Greenbelt Gun Club has worked up a brief program, along the lines of the Army marksmanship course, to teach young people the sport of rifle shooting.

These classes will be followed by actual firing on the target range on weekends under supervision of senior instructors. Sessions were led by Lyman Woodman, Don Kern, Harry Bates, Ben Rosenzweig, Sam Wallace and Dean Manifold.

JCC Building Fund Committee

The Greenbelt Jewish Community Center began the Jewish New Year with the announcement of a campaign for funds for its building. A total goal of $25,000 has been set, with $4,000 as Greenbelt's goal and the remainder of the goal to be obtained from solicitation of residents of the Washington area. Substantial amounts have been pledged to the fund by Washingtonians on the condition that the Greenbelt community meets its goal.

In response to Rabbi Sandhaus' appeal during services on Yom Kippur, the congregation pledged approximately $1,000. Those who made pledges and those who wish to make contributions should make their payments to Leon Mitteldorf, 14-X Ridge Road.

All those interested in this work should contact Sidney Spindel, who is in the process of organizing the building fund committee.
